STUDENTS AT ‘FRASER’ LOVE TO WRITE

I LOVE TO WRITE TO MY MUM AND TELL HER MY FEELINGS.

READING GOALS

Students at ‘Fraser ‘ set goals for reading to achieve excellence. These students have achieved their reading goals. We are so proud!
The horse was black and lonely. The horse was white and peaceful. The farmer was mean and angry. The other animals were crazy. It was just me and the horse against the world. We came across a village that was not for us………

Then we came across a town that was utterly lost. Finally we found a city that was called Los Angeles. It was a dream. We were happy at home!

The staff at Fraser Park Preschool-7 School model the importance of being a life long learner by continuing to update their qualifications and skills. Ajith Bol has just completed his Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care through Tafe. This is a great effort by Ajith and not only has this updated his skills but it has also given him a pathway to University.

Well done Ajith! We are so very proud!

We have been working with RecLink to run some activities with a small group of students to increase positive risk taking through outdoor education activities. The students have been Kayaking and are doing Ten Pin Bowling and snorkelling at Port Noarlunga reef. Risk taking is an important part of learning. If students are unable to take risks they are unable to try new activities where there is a chance of getting it wrong. This is where key learning happens.

Thank you Mr. Hill
This Fraser Profile has been brought to you by the Fraser Park Administration Team.
This fortnight the Pulyeri children have been involved in activities related to the story ‘Handa’s Surprise’ by Eileen Browne. We tried our hands at tie dyeing. This form of colouring fabric is used throughout the world and in the story the main characters wear clothes that have been dyed. We also tasted some avocado, pineapple and frozen mango. The children particularly enjoyed the frozen mango as they thought the mango tasted like ice cream.

This term we have also been working steadily on a technology project. Together the children are following the plans to make a billycart. This project has caught the interests of a lot of the children and has already offered opportunities for them to measure, rule lines, drill holes and consider safety.

Cheers
Brad
